*Integrating Science, Policy and Clinical Practice:
A One Health Imperative Post-COVID-19*

HYBRID Congress
Singapore

Join us for the 7th World One Health Congress in 2022!

The World One Health Congress (WOHC) is the world's premier conference to advance the One Health agenda. The WOHC profiles and advances trans-disciplinary efforts that further our collective understanding of animal-human disease transmission alongside their social and environmental determinants. Taking place biennially, the WOHC attracts professionals from academic and clinical settings, civil society, national governments, the private sector and multi-lateral organisations across the world.

The 7th WOHC is hosted by the SingHealth Duke-NUS Global Health Institute (SDGHI) and will take place from 7 to 11 November, 2022, at the Sands Expo & Convention Centre in Singapore. Leading scientists and policy makers will come together to share learnings across diverse disciplines including epidemiology and disease surveillance, animal production and trade, food safety, animal science, human health, environmental science/ecology and global health security.

Abstract Submissions & Registration Open

The 7th World One Health Congress (WOHC2022) is currently accepting abstracts, and virtual and in-person registrations for the hybrid event are open.

Authors are invited to submit their abstracts for oral and poster presentations by Monday, 15 August, 2022. The WOHC 2022 Scientific Committee welcomes submissions of abstracts for original contributions that advance the One Health agenda in the following thematic areas:

- One Health Science
- Antimicrobial Resistance
- Policy, Environment & Biosecurity
- Pandemic Preparedness and Health Systems Resilience
- Impact on and Innovations in Clinical Practice
